

President's lens

At the University of Doha for Science and Technology, we take immense pride in the journey each of our students embarks upon, from their first day on campus to the proud moment of walking across that stage at graduation, and beyond as engaged and thriving alumni. This journey is not simply a path of learning; it is a lifelong connection built on shared experiences, growth, and a collective spirit of belonging.

It is with great excitement that we announce a new chapter in this journey, the establishment of the Student Engagement and Alumni Affairs (SEAA) Directorate. This new structure reflects our commitment to ensure an integrated and seamless experience that connects student life with their personal and professional development, and ultimately, their continued engagement as UDST alumni.

The SEAA Directorate embodies the full cycle of our community: student, graduate, and alumni; all intertwined into one network of excellence, mentorship, and opportunity. It represents our belief that education does not end at graduation, but evolves through continuous learning, giving back, and inspiring future generations.

As we move forward, this evolution will enable us to deepen our engagement with both current students and alumni, strengthen our programs and activities, and create more meaningful avenues for connection, collaboration, and contribution. Together, we continue to build a community that grows stronger with every graduating class a community for life, Once UDST, Always UDST.
